Socks (one pair for each day)
Underwear (one pair for each day)
Light jacket ie. Polar fleece jacket
Hiking boots or sneakers (bring only one pair)
Shorts one pair only
Long pants (lightweight quick dry, for night time)
Sun hat (use hiking)
Long underwear (top and bottoms for night time)
Ski hat (for night time)

Personal

Hiking Stick (optional) (great for going uphill and downhill for adults)

LED headlamp

Toothbrush (optional), Pocket knife (optional), Whistle

Backpack (internal or external--your preference--but make sure it has a really comfy, padded hipbelt and padded shoulder straps)

Straps or rope to tie equipment to backpack

Poop Kit (plastic shovel, toilet paper, baby wipes, and sanitary supplies like tampons or pads Enough in case you have your period the entire time you are backpacking and Heavy Duty Freezer Ziplock bags--about 5 of these for storing your TP, your wipes and sanitary items)

First Aid Kit (in a small zip lock bag) Band-Aid Advanced Healing Blister bandages. You use this BEFORE a warm spot turns into a blister. You use Moleskin or Second Skin if a blister has already formed.

Leave the hair spray and other "smell good" products at home! They attract bees and other stinging insects!!! Use non-scented products when backpacking so that you do not attract wild animals or insects.

Although we sometimes use deodorant in base camp, we leave it behind when we backpack. Daily washing and keeping clean will minimize our body odors (with non-scented products). We want the animals to be able to tell that HUMANS are coming into the area, not enticing fruits and other non-human fragrances. This includes sunscreen.

The goal is Zero Impact Pack it in, pack it out Leave only footprints, take only pictures, kill only time.
